

EVERY OFFICER DID HIS DUTY SAYS NEVILLE

Vera Cruz, June 8.—"Every officer in my command did his duty, no more than the other," This was the answer sent Admiral Fletcher when he requested Lieutenant Colonel Nevill of the Marine Corps, to recommend men for medals of honor as a result of the capture of Vera Cruz.

Admiral Fletcher suggested that the absence of the names of marines from honor list would look peculiar in view of the conspicuous part they played, but Col. Nevill replied his men did not regard the capture of Vera Cruz as a real fight and would await something difficult before expecting a reward. Fletcher nevertheless recommended several names, Nevill's heading the list.

HUERTA RESCINDS HIS ORDER TO BLOCKADE TAMICO

Washington, June 8.—Huerta has backed down and rescinded his order for the blockade of Tampico. Formal announcement was given to Secretary Bryan by Spanish Ambassador Risco this morning.

The rescinding order lifted a heavy load from the administration officials and relief was apparent about the White House. Pacifism had held sway during the early forenoon.

HUERTA'S BACKDOWN CAUSES FEELING OF RELIEF

Niagara Falls, June 8.—International News dispatches telling of Huerta's back down caused a feeling of relief among the mediators.

When it was later confirmed by Washington, Judge Lamar stated the Tampico question had been settled satisfactory to the United States but would not explain just what he meant.

It is believed there will be no further trouble for the constitutionalists.

EXTREME COURT UPHOLDS COMMERCE COMMISSION

Washington, June 8.—The United States Supreme Court today upheld the Commerce Commission in the Shreveport rate case. The decision is one of the most sweeping ever handed down by the court.

SIDELIGHTS ON MEXICO

By a Veteran.
Washington, June 8.—While the mediators mediated at Niagara Falls Huerta went merrily on granting concessions in Mexico City, I learn. I would scarce dare to appraise the values of these concessions, but concessionaries seem easy to find and perfectly willing to sign contracts for tens of years. One can only guess at the unwritten sections of the contracts made by the dictator.

For instance, two concessions have just been granted for the exploitation of the pearl industry. One of these went to Manuel Romo for the Isla Angel de la Guarda, off the western coast the other to Carlos Aguilera for the west coast, including the islands of the zone embraced between Puerto Angel, Oaxaca and San Benito, Chiapas.

The terms provide for the breeding and exploitation of pearl shells, mother of pearl shells and pearl abalon shells. The concessionaries are obliged to pay the government $60.00 for every thousand of pearl shells, $20 for every thousand of pearl abalon shells and $10 for every thousand of mother pearl shells produced. The contracts run ten years.

There are many clauses assuming to protect the government and also the natural resources. The pearl shells must measure at least eighteen centimeters in diameter and the mother of pearl and nacre must have passed their second spawning. It is strictly prohibited to exploit the breeding grounds of the pearls.

The concessionaries are obliged to establish artificial beds for the breeding of the pearls, with all the necessary conditions such as rocks, gravel and other matter, forming at least ten hectares annually. At the end of ten years these beds and all improvements revert to the government.

This is the story of Martinez, so-called "king of the snipers," one of the underhand fighters who picked off good American sailors and marines for two days after we had seized Vera Cruz.

Martinez was a Mexican who had fled before Villa from his vast cotton plantations in the Torreón district and had gone to Vera Cruz with his American wife. All thru the winter they were frequently guests aboard United States warships in the harbor.

His house was on the same street as the United States consulate, where fighting was hot the first day. On the second day, when the Americans advanced through the entire town and held it, sniping continued in many sections, especially in the block in which Martinez's house was situated. Owing to the fact that the snipers used smokeless powder and kept themselves well hidden it was next to impossible to discover them.

During the afternoon of Wednesday Martinez came along the block where a party of marines had been stationed in an effort to locate the snipers. He was warned by Col. Nevill of the Marine Corps not to go into his house, as it was strongly suspected that snipers were located there.

Martinez professed his regret at such a suspicion, asserting his strong admiration and friendship for the Americans and said he was sure no one could be using his house for such a purpose. He was finally allowed to enter his house.

Subsequently it was noted that every time Col. Nevill exposed himself in the street a shot would come from near by. It was obvious some one was trying to "get" the marine officer.

Col. Nevill finally mounted the balcony of the American consulate and began watching the roofs and windows of the houses up the street through a pair of field glasses. He saw Martinez sitting on his balcony with a newspaper spread out on his lap and smoking a cigarette, apparently idly watching the proceedings.

As he watched him the Colonel saw to his amazement Martinez quickly pull an automatic revolver from under the newspaper in his lap and fire a shot, restoring the weapon to its hiding place under the newspaper with lightning speed. Calling a marine Col. Nevill pointed out the man on the balcony and said bluntly, "Get him."

The Marine fired and Martinez fell off his chair. He was wounded in the stomach. He was removed to another house by a Mexican doctor and his wound dressed. The next day, apparently not satisfied with what the Mexican surgeon had done for him, he sent for Dr. M. S. Elliott, U. S. N., a personal friend, who has been in charge of the shore hospital. Elliott dressed the wound again, but Martinez died.

His American wife was at the time on board the American refugee ship Esperanza. She was told that her husband had been forced upon the balcony by snipers and shot by them.

Most readers of American newspapers are probably unaware that in theory the Mexican government is not only as good as our own but is patterned very closely after it. Remember, I say in theory.

Mexico, is, like the United States a Federal Republic with executive powers centralized. There are 27 states, 3 territories and a Federal District, the latter on the analogy of our District of Columbia.

The central government has three co-ordinate branches—executive, legislative and judicial—each nominally independent of the other. The president, vice president, and cabinet of eight compose the executive branch. The cabinet officers are the secretaries of foreign affairs, interior, justice, public instruction and fine arts; fuel, colonization and industry; communications and public works; finance and public credit; and war and marine.

There are many other analogies in theory.

ROAD TENT IS DYNAMITED

A terrible explosion occurred between Chancellor and Coffee Springs, in Geneva county yesterday, when a tent or shanty used by the county road crew was blown to atoms by a charge of 150 pounds of dynamite, according to information reaching Dothan.

It seems that the tent or shanty caught fire, and Livermore McEachin, who is a brother of the superintendent of road construction in this county, realizing that the fire could not be extinguished before it reached the dynamite made the quickest preparation he could and ordered all out of the way, the explosion occurring shortly afterwards.

The origin of the fire, which caused the explosion, is not known and it is feared one man, whose name could not be learned, was injured in the accident.

It is said that overtures had been made to Governor McEachin of Geneva county in an effort to obtain his consent for the sale of intoxicants among the men working on the county roads, and that the permission was refused. Whether this will tend to throw any light on the mystery is not known.

For many years Mrs. Pickett has been a celebrated writer, and has gained enviable distinction upon the platform. Mrs. Pickett is a woman of exceptional beauty, rare dignity and distinguished presence, and has a voice of wonderful carrying power, so that she is easily heard in the largest auditoriums. Her lectures, "The Battle of Gettysburg," "Negro Folk-Lore—Stories of the Old South" and "Friends of Yesterday," are so very accurate and true to life, and her delivery so splendidly fascinating, that she never fails to create both enthusiasm and admiration. CIRCUIT COURT IN TWO WEEKS

Court Officials and Lawyers Want Electric Fans Installed in Main Court Room.

Two weeks from today an adjourned term of the Circuit Court of Houston county will be held at the court house Judge H. A. Pearce presiding. Criminal cases will be taken up for trial the first week, and as soon as the criminal docket is cleared civil litigation will come up for consideration.

Owing to the warm weather, and prospects for still hotter days, Judge H. A. Pearce made a request at the Sheriff's office today that the proposition of installing electric fans in the main court room be taken up with the County Commissioners, who are now in session.

Lawyers, court officials and others whose duties require their presence in the court room, as a rule are averse to summer terms of court because of heat, and especially is this true when the court is not equipped with fans.

In the prosecution and defense of criminal cases, in which a goodly portion of the work consists of speech-making, the lawyers are put to considerable discomfort in summer unless electric fans are provided.

Young Man is Sent to Asylum

Jones' place of business Sunday morning after sun-up, and took a number of articles from the store. It is thought he had been drinking.

NO CHANCE

We might have survived all our troubles, but for this. This from the Birmingham Mercury-Banner in the most unkind out of all times: "You, hear ye!"

"The Dothan Eagle has a terrible case of 'grinch' (the Eagle lost out so consistently in the late elections for Senator, Governor and Congressmen that it has settled on the world its latest complaint is against the congressional executive committee of the Third District, naming the members to fill out Henry Clayton's unexpired term. Well, wags a ginger snap if the committee had chosen a man named Hall The Eagle would not have chirped."

This goes to show what a quiet and peaceable editor will get into by saying too much.

The Eagle editor lost out on the governor. That's a fact. It lost out on a United States Senator. Another fact. It lost out on the congressman from this district, still one more fact.

But on fact four, we refuse to be lost. We refuse to stand for the action of the committee, and we will make this wager with the Mercury-Banner.

Note close now. If the action of the congressional committee holds good, Josh Speight will be elected. If the people rebuke their action Josh Speight will be defeated. If he is elected, The Eagle will write a strong whiskey editorial and accept some of the whiskey advertisements for one issue only. Provided, that if Speight is defeated the Mercury-Banner will write a strong prohibition editorial just for the change.

If you remember, President Wilson couldn't do without Henry Clayton, when it was seen that if Clayton and Underwood stayed in the race for senate Nelson would be elected. Clayton had to come out so they impounded the President to help get him out. But when Clayton saw the judgment dangling from the flimsy, he reached for it and the President didn't say his nay. He could spare him from Washington.

It was The Eagle's contention all the time that Clayton should have been defeated. Subsequent events have shown that we were right.

We feel better in defeat some times than others do in a victory.

Whom did the Mercury-Banner support in the gubernatorial campaign four years ago?

And this. This is where the M B means to dig a ditch between the fifth and sixth ribs.

"Well wags a ginger snap if the committee had chosen a man named Hall The Eagle would not have chirped."

Oh, yes we would. We weren't running. We have one job the people put upon us, and couldn't have had the nerve. We would have "chirped" had the committee named anybody, unless it would have been

Henry Strugall for there would have been no excuse for naming him as Clayton resigned before I can legally declare the nominee and many still in the council of justice say the committee should have then elected Strugall the nominee.

Keep your eye on the main chance. See if the Eagle is not in the fight to condemn the committee for failing the step it did see if Henry Mulkey of it ever doesn't get away with something like 5,000 majority over the congressional nominee.

THE BOY SHOULD SWIM.

About every boy of not over 10 years today knows how to swim.

Only recently a healthy young man, thirteen years old, was drowned at Columbus. He could not swim.

On the ship disaster the other day, hundreds of lives would have been saved if they had only known the simple art of swimming.

At this season of the year every normal boy wants to go in bathing. He may yell like a mad dog when he gets in, but he has to take a bath in a modern bath tub. He likes to go in mill ponds and take a bath at any season of the year and the water doesn't chill him.

The boy who is brought up with out being taught to swim but properly educated the same thing would apply with equal force to the girl. She should be taught to swim for she may come to the shore or swim pool at some time of her life.

Here in Dothan the police are too busy making money to take up any time providing a swimming pool. So we haven't a swimming pool. Some man might as well go and make enough money out of the boys and girls during one summer to winter himself on if he wants about it properly.

None of us know but what there is an Emperor of Ireland or a Titanic ahead of us. The good swimmer has much the advantage in such accidents, and they will continue. They have been coming from the beginning of time and man has grown smart enough yet to prevent one.

SEE HOW IT FITS

It has been so long since a handful of men met and made a nomination without asking anybody about it that the people of the Third District are bound to show those self-appointed bosses that they have a say so. We will see how the people feel about it. Mr. Mulkey of Geneva is in the race for the short term against Josh Speight the young man the committee put in on its own hook. It is up to the committee now to elect Mr. Speight a big job to be sure.

Mr. Mulkey is a prominent lawyer of the Whig era and has rendered valuable service to his community. He is a big, broad shouldered man, who isn't afraid of water and knows how to work. He came up among the people down here and has done a man's part in helping the voters of the county. It is time enough in the common people of this district to make them a good representative in congress and he is as sure of election as the day comes.

We don't believe that Mr. Hall was recently married to Mr. Hall in the papers say.

CLIMBING ROSES BEAUTIFY GROUNDS AND SCREEN PORCHES

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Climbing roses are a valuable aid to the man who is interested in having his home in attractive surroundings. With fine lawn, artfully massed shrubbery, and a wealth of vines clambering over the porch and roof, many a plain and unpretentious house has been transformed into a most attractive dwelling place. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has a rose garden on its grounds and many experiments have been made in the treatment of the various kinds to secure the best results.

After the blooming season of climbing roses is over in June, the Department's landscape gardener advises that shoots should be pruned so as to throw the growth of the plant into the new wood that bears no flowers this year, for this is the part of the plant that will bear next year. When a trellis is low (6 or 8 feet high) it is a good plan to cut off the shoots that have borne flowers this year clear to the ground.

Most people in following this advice may feel that they are ruining their bushes by cutting them back so severely, but the young shoots that have started about the roots will surprise them by springing up with wonderful rapidity. Each bush will probably put forth several new shoots that will grow as long as those cut, or one shoot will grow much longer. In either case the trellis will soon be covered again. One shoot in a Washington garden last year grew 20 feet after the bush had been cut down in this manner.

In the case of a high trellis a different method must be followed. The renewal of wood must begin from a point higher up instead of from the root as the growth of a bush is not enough to replace all its top on a high trellis if required to grow so far. Only so much of the old wood should be removed after the flowers have bloomed as will enable the new shoots from the end of the remaining portion of the stalk to replace the old growth. About 1 foot is a safe measure as the amount that may be taken off.

Those who have grown climbing roses as a screen on their porches, in order to insure a fine bloom the coming year, will do well to follow the advice as given for the higher trellis. In other words, about 1 foot of the old stalks that have bloomed should be cut off immediately after the blossoms are withered. The foliage will recover within a very short period and continue to screen the porch and next year an abundant crop of blossoms will be assured.

GETTING UP THE 300 NAMES TO PUT MURKIN ON TICKET

Petitions are being circulated in Houston county to secure the required 300 names asking the Committee to put Hon. W. O. Mulkey's name on the ticket for the coming election to fill the unexpired term of Henry Clayton.

There will be no trouble in securing the required number of names, as Houston county will go on record hard against the recent action of the committee in declaring a nominee for the third term congressman.

A DISCREET DADDY

My daddy's always telling me about how good he used to be. He did what he was told to do. And he was neat and tidy too. He learned his lessons every day. And he would rather work than play. But when my grandma's visiting. With us, my daddy, if I'm bad. Forgets to say a single thing. About his goodness as a lad.

My daddy says he never told A. B. or made his parents scold. Because he did things that were wrong. He always tried to help along. By being good and kind and sweet. And eating what boys ought to eat. But when my grandma visits here. My daddy never boasts to me. About how good and sweet and dear. A little boy he used to be.

My daddy always took delight. In doing only what was right. When he was just about my size. He wanted to be great and wise. But when my grandma comes and. When. My grandma's here to visit, then. My daddy merely gives a wink. Or smiles, if I've been kind of wild. And doesn't try to make us think. That he was once an angel child. —E. S. Kiser.

CONCERNING

MRS. PENNYBACKER—Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, will soon have finished her first biennial term as president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and her re-election for a second term at the national convention, which is to be held at Chicago, June 9 to 19, is said to be assured. She is now in Chicago for the meeting.

As the head of the organization with a total membership of more than 1,000,000 women, Mrs. Pennybacker has performed remarkable service during the past two years. One of the big things to her credit in her wonderful success in keeping the affairs of the big organization harmonious. Of ten times crop into local women's clubs and unless they are quieted they may spread until they threaten to disrupt the parent body. Mrs. Pennybacker has dealt directly with the individual officers and clubs in matters of this kind and through the exercise of rare diplomacy he has held the organization together and broadened its scope of usefulness in many respects.

During the two years of her incumbency as president, Mrs. Pennybacker has traveled more than 20,000 miles in the United States and Canada. She perhaps knows more club women personally than any other person in country while she maintains the national capital of women's clubdom in her pretty cottage in Austin, she spends most of her time on the road promoting and forwarding the different propositions that comprise the working platform of the organization.
